Situation 1. This morning you were playing at Susie's house. She got mad and told you to go home. This afternoon, Susie comes to your house and wants to play.

Situation 2. Yesterday, Tommy brought his favorite toy to the playground but you forgot your toy. He would not play with you or let you play with his toy. Today, Tommy forgot his toy and wants to play with you and your toy.

Situation 3. When you are at Bobby's house, he will not share his Easter candy with you. Later in the day, Bobby comes to your house. Your mom has just made cookies and Bobby wants some.

Situation 4. Jane and Molly would not play with you yesterday. They said they did not want to be your friend any more. Today, you and Jill are playing soccer and Jane wants to play.

Situation 6. You and Bill have been drafted by the same basketball team. Bill thinks he is a much better player than you. He laughs every time you shoot. The coach just named the starting players. You will start but Bill will not. Bill is sad and thinking about quitting the team.

Situation 7. Susie is a classmate who lives down the street from you and always makes fun of the clothes you wear. She will not play with you and tells the other girls in your class not to play with you either. She calls you a nerd. Your class has a math project due tomorrow. Susie forgot her book at school and wants to borrow yours.

Situation 8. You live next door to a grumpy man and his grumpy wife. They yell at you whenever your ball goes in their yard. They complain to your parents whenever you and your friends make too much noise. They are always getting you into trouble. The grumpy man and his grumpy wife have planned a vacation and are trying to find someone to pick up their newspaper and take care of their cat while they are out of town.

Situation 9. Last week Jill invited everyone in your class except you to her birthday party. She handed out the invitations during class and told everyone in the class that you were not invited. Your birthday is next month. Your mom said you could have a party and invite the whole class if you wanted. Your mom wants to know who you want to invite to your party.

Situation 10. You are on an all day field trip to the zoo with your class. Tommy, the class bully, picks on you all morning long. It is now lunch and everyone goes to the snack bar to buy a snack. Tommy discovers he forgot his lunch money at home. You are the only one in the class with extra money.
